 ENTRENUE
2026 Calendar

DEAR FRIENDS AND PARTNERS,

As 2025 draws to a close, we find ourselves reflecting with gratitude on another year of collaboration, growth, and shared success. This past year brought both opportunities and challenges, and we are deeply proud to be your partner in navigating these together.

In 2025, we were fortunate to expand our catalog with thoughtfully curated products, relocate the Arizona warehouse to improve operational efficiencies, offer split orders between both warehouses to improve shipping rates and reduce backorders, and continue cultivating personal connections with the expansion of our sales team.

Entrenue's mission has always been about more than just distribution—it's about building meaningful partnerships and supporting the brands, retailers, and communities that inspire and sustain us. We are inspired every day by the creativity and dedication of our partners, and we look forward to building on that momentum in the year ahead.

From our family to yours, we wish you a joyous holiday season and a bright, prosperous new year.

With gratitude,
Steve and Andy Craig

"One word...
WOW!"

Pets: Lucy was our girl... miss her everyday.

Favorite Food: My husband would say it's chicken... and I think he is probably right. But the pierogies at Martha's in Las Vegas are pretty amazing!

Fun Fact: I can wiggle my ears, together or independently.

With over two decades of industry experience on the retail and distribution side, I will celebrate my 20th year with Entrenue next year. In my tenure with Entrenue, I became a "jack of all trades," allowing me to earn a wealth of expertise in many facets of distribution; my coworkers dubbed me, "The Oracle." Without a doubt, the most rewarding part of this job will always be working with our customers and manufacturers. Every day, I get to work with people that I consider friends. I am amazed by their passion, their commitment, and their belief that they are doing good in the world. They sacrifice countless hours, energy, and sometimes even their homes to finance their businesses. How can that NOT be inspiring? The bonus is that I get to be a cheerleader on the sidelines, watching them succeed while celebrating their victories with them!

"Great upgrade to an industry favorite"

Pets: One handsome Bouvier Des Flandres named Crater who is 7 years old.

Favorite Food: I am not a steak-and-potatoes kind of girl. Give me seafood and a slice of lemon and I am in heaven.

Fun Fact: I hiked Mount Kilimanjaro with my husband, and my toes hit the summit on Jan 1, 2016.

I will be celebrating my 13th year with Entrenue in November 2025. My accomplishments have been attributed to my positive attitude, head-down-and-diligent work ethic, and the love that I have for the people that I work with and this industry. Outside people always chuckle when I tell them what I do. I cherish my clients and take pride in the relationships that I have built with them and the manufacturers who passionately create their products. They all make this world a better place. I come from the beauty industry as a distributor, so this was an easy transition for me. I find JOY in doing the tradeshow and have been referred to as an "energizer bunny." Although near retirement age, I plan on being with Entrenue for many more years to come.

"I have this in my purse!
It smells amazing and tastes just as good!"

Pets: Two dogs (Danny and Pearl), one cat (Norman), a hamster (Daddy), and a tarantula (Paul Anka). I'm also a proud plant mom—with too many green babies to name.

Favorite Food: Vietnamese.

Fun Fact: I love hiking and make it a goal to explore trails in different states—one of my favorites was trekking through the striking red clay canyons of Providence Canyon in Georgia.

I have been working in the adult industry since 2010, beginning with managing retail stores in Central Florida and Key West. During that time, I developed a passion for product education, staff training, community outreach, and creating welcoming shopping experiences. In 2021, I transitioned to the manufacturing and distribution side of the industry, partnering with top brands and retailers to provide sales training, merchandising strategies, and product knowledge. This shift allowed me to expand my expertise, building strong relationships across the industry and sharing my enthusiasm for sexual health and wellness. Today, I'm proud to be part of the Entrenue team, where I combine my years of retail and manufacturing experience to support my customers with knowledge, strategy, and care. My work is centered on empowering retailers and their staff, ensuring they feel confident in the products they sell, and fostering connections that elevate the industry as a whole.

Play Parties: Orgies, Mixers, and Mingles

There's more than one way to mix and mingle and every route has its own fascinating history. The swinger parties of the '60s celebrated the hedonism of the area, going all the way up to mainstream publicity with Playboy and its namesake mansion. On the opposite end, gay bathhouses throughout the century provided safe venues to have sex in a hostile outside culture. Kink events range from meetups organized through personal ads to publicly advertised art shows. No matter the party, it's great to set the scene with favors like Glitterati Penis Candles, call attention with accessories like Glow-in-the-Dark Googly Eye Pasties, and break the ice with games like the Let's Fool Around Dice Game.

The OG: History of the Magic Wand

The most iconic pleasure product wasn't intended to be one. The Hitachi Magic Wand, a body massager released in 1968, provided handheld, powerful vibrations that satisfied experimenting users. Embraced by early adult retailers like Good Vibrations and popularized by sex educator Betty Dodson, it became established as "the Cadillac of vibrators," even if its creator didn't want it to be. Vibratex has since adopted the Original Magic Wand name from Hitachi, who wanted to distance themselves from the iconic product that Vibratex now makes, along with Rechargeable, Mini, Micro, and Waterproof versions.

Couples Vibrators: The Invention of We-Vibe

When one partner uses a toy on another, their sexual experiences are enhanced, not just by the joy of experimenting with new sensations on each other, but also by facilitating communication about what feels good and where. We-Vibe supercharged that shared experience in 2008 with their groundbreaking couples toy, allowing two partners to enjoy the same stimulation from the same toy at once. Since then, We-Vibe has continued to enhance couples play with new shapes, app compatibility, and ever-increasing high-tech advancements.

Erotica Literature: National Reading Month

They say the strongest erogenous organ is the brain, which is why erotic literature has been present as long as written language. Even in the puritanical 1700s, erotic novels like Fanny Hill reached mass publishing. To this day, many in the mainstream embrace “light BDSM” and “fairy smut” over adult films. From sexual education nonfiction to indulgent Penthouse letter accounts, adult literature always has and always will have an enthusiastic audience.

Rabbit vibes are some of the most recognizable pleasure products, not only for their distinctive shape, but for the beloved dual stimulation they've offered users since the early '80s. A whole generation embraced them when the Vibratex Rabbit Pearl was the subject of a 1998 Sex and the City episode in which Charlotte receives one from Miranda, and as a result, no longer wants to leave her house. Rabbits continue to be a favorite as they evolve into waving models like the Le Wand Hither, C-ring attachments like the VeDO Sexy Bunny, and advanced dual stimulators like the SVibe Curve.

Does the G-Spot Exist?

G-Spot and Squirting

Like many areas of medical science and vulva owners' bodies, the G-spot is understudied. Dr. Beverly Whipple named the G-spot in 1982 after German physician Ernst Gräfenberg, who proposed its existence in 1950. While the structure, location, and functionality of the G-spot and squirt fluid are under debate, Dr. Beverly Whipple's research advanced and emphasized a focus on vulval pleasure and the happiness and independence of its owners. Conduct your own research with G-spot-focused toys like the Biird Gii, the Honey Play Box Puff, or the njoy Pure.

Dils and Dos: Harness and Strap-On Play

Like the eggplant emoji of today, people have made a penis of everything phallic about as long as history has been recorded. Ancient murals from Pompeii, literary records from Cleopatra's Egypt, and detailed illustrations from 1800s France all depict people keeping (and using) dildos and strap-ons from stone, metals, wood, and more. In China, archaeologists even discovered a bronze penis with a leather strap dated as far back as 220 BCE. Luckily, we've since graduated onto silicone dildos like the Biird Boo or Blush Avant Pride P3, and more sophisticated harnesses like the SpareParts Joque Cover.

Bondage and Kink

While bondage and kink may seem to have exploded in modern mainstream culture with series like Fifty Shades of Grey, people have gotten creative as far back as we can tell. The Kama Sutra describes consensual impact play and biting. Medieval monks participated in euphoric flagellation. Millennia of creative sexual play have brought us all kinds of extracurricular devices, like the Tantus Dragon Tail Paddle, the Sportsheets Velvet Noir Tuggable Nipple Clamps, and all kinds of items designed to satisfy and inspire fantasies.

Anal Toys: Fun for All

The earliest known butt plugs sold in the US were “medical devices” from the late 1800s called Dr. Young’s Ideal Rectal Dilators. The label claimed they cured constipation, foul breath, acne, insomnia, and all kinds of other ailments. While those claims may have been snake oil salespersonship at work, most people agree that anal toys feel good for anyone with a butt. Try the We-Vibe Ditto+, the Lovense Hush 2, the njoy Disco, or the b-Vibe Butties Bundle for a variety of anal experiences.

Massage and Lubricants: Slip and Slide for More Pleasure

While what we (and the FDA) call “lube” these days is a relatively modern invention, people have used all kinds of slippery substances for easier sexual purposes. Olive oil has been recorded of use since ancient Greece. Household items like Crisco and petroleum jelly have been utilized since their invention. While these may not be encouraged now, some products like carrageenan were used as early as 600 BCE China and are still used as lube ingredients today! We’re grateful for modern options like Sliquid Silver, Good Clean Love BioGenesis Fertility Lube, And Beloved Intimacy Serum.

Costumes and Playwear

Halloween season is just one example of social functions encouraging lingerie as outerwear. Not unlike the flappers of the '20s wearing slip dresses or flower children of the '60s wearing halters, Halloween partiers love a chance to celebrate with minimal clothing. Whether it's to role-play with a Dreamgirl Nurse Costume or to delve into a deeper part of you with a Bijoux Indiscrets Maze Multi-Way Body Harness, a chance to dress up (or down) is as good as excuse as any to experiment.

Prostate Health: Movember Toys

Prostate massage is a highly pleasurable form of play for penis owners. Massaging the sensitive area makes for intense stimulation that can even arouse orgasms without stroking the penis. It has also gone in and out of practice in the United States as an effective medical treatment for prostatitis. Whatever the verdict, a healthy sex life and a healthy relationship with the body usually leads to a healthier lifestyle. Get healthy with stationary options like the b-Vibe Stainless Steel P-Spot Training Set, Vibrating options like the Aneros Helix Syn V, or thrusting options like the Honey Play Box Jaden.

Toys of the Future: App Toys

People theorize that adult entertainment and products are early adapters of new technologies; it's hard to argue that with the wide variety of app-enabled toys now available. Once theorized as a futuristic concept in tech magazine articles in the '80s and '90s, companies like Lovense and We-Vibe almost exclusively make toys that allow partners to play with each other from other sides of the planet, even having options like music syncing and video games in their apps. Embrace the future with toys like the Lovense Lush 4, the LELO F2S, and the Honey Play Box Elektra.
